

LIVE DEALER CASINO

What are Live Dealer Casinos?

Live dealer casinos use webcams to film real live dealers. This is one of the latest trends in online casino technology. Instead of having a computer image of a dealer, you can enjoy the real thing from the comfort of your own home. Live dealer casinos are the invention of Playtech and they certainly took the online casino world by storm when they were introduced.

The Advantages of Live Dealer Casinos

Players can watch their cards being dealt live in real time via web cam. Live dealer games can be enjoyed in blackjack, roulette, baccarat and sic bo. Blackjack is the most popular of the live games and casinos that offer live games generally offer multiple live blackjack tables. Players are also able to chat to other players or the dealer in real time and you can even tip the dealer if you want to. Many players, especially those who tend to bet high prefer to see their cards being dealt, as opposed to simply trying to beat the computer. The idea of being able to watch the dealer and the pack of cards tends to put many players' minds at ease. The cards that are used at live dealer casinos are generally large making them easy to read. The web cam zooms in and out of the table making it easy to see the cards clearly and see the general layout of the players and the table. Many online casinos that offer live dealer play will offer special live casino bonuses for players to use. This is an added incentive to try out this relatively new technology.

Player Choices at Live Dealer Casinos

When players log on to the live dealer rooms of the casino, you will enter an area with multiple tables. Players are able to choose the table of their choice just like in a land based casino. Casino will also offer tables with varying betting limits and some may even offer high roller tables, although this is less common. Top quality live dealer casinos provide enjoyable backgrounds beyond the tables. These may include lounges, offices or bedrooms where players can go to relax and chat with other players.

Disadvantages of Live Dealer Casino Games

The majority of online casinos available today do not offer live dealer games. If you would like to play at a live dealer casino, you will be far more limited in your choice of casino and casino software. If live dealer casinos are the thing for you, this may not be a disadvantage to you though. Due to the fact that the games are live, if you arrive at a table to find that it is full and there are no free places at any other tables, you may have to sit and wait until a table becomes available, just as you would in a bricks and mortar casino. Live dealer casinos tend to require higher speed connections and more bandwidth than regular online casinos and so not everyone may be able to enjoy these multi media games.
